The Revd Dr Rodney D. Holder is former Course Director of The Faraday Institute for Science and Religion at St Edmund's College, Cambridge. He was awarded a DPhil in astrophysics from Oxford. After 14 years working for UK Ministry of Defence clients as an operational research consultant, he returned to Oxford, and took a first class degree in theology in 1996. Dr. Holder then worked for four years as a priest for seven years combining parish ministry with writing and research on the relationship between science and faith before taking up his post at Cambridge.
